

Investing During Volatile Markets

With the markets as they are, this can be a confusing time for many investors. We understand that you may have more questions than answers. As a valued client, we invite you to join us for an informative seminar where we'll show you how to navigate these challenging markets and make sense of your investment options.

Presented by:

Wendy Chen

Financial Advisor

Morgan Stanley Smith Barney

Topic: Volatility and the Long-term Investor

Hosted by:

Wendy Chen

Financial Advisor

Morgan Stanley Smith Barney

50 N Laura Street, Jacksonville FL 32202

Date: Dec. 11, 2011

Time: 2:00-2:50pm

Place: Room 2004

Bldg. 42, Coggin College of Business, UNF

RSVP: 904-665-0443

Refreshments will be served.

Guests are welcome.

Mutual fund, exchange-traded products, UITs and variable annuities ("investments") are subject to market risk, including the possible loss of principal. Variable annuities are suitable for long-term investment purposes. Variable annuities are long-term investments designed for retirement purposes and may be subject to market fluctuations, investment risk, and possible loss of principal. All guarantees are based on the claims-paying ability of the issuer. Taxable distributions (and certain deemed distributions) are subject to ordinary income tax and, if taken prior to age 59 1/2, may be subject to a 10% federal income tax penalty. Morgan Stanley Smith Barney and its Financial Advisors do not provide tax or legal advice. Individuals should consult their personal tax and legal advisors before making any tax or legal related decisions.

These investments are sold by prospectus only. The prospectus contains the investment objectives, risks, fees, charges and expenses, and other information regarding these investments which should be carefully considered before investing. Prospectuses are available through your Financial Advisor. Read the prospectus carefully before you invest or send money.

The presentation will contain the current opinions of the speaker, which are subject to change without notice. It does not represent a recommendation of any particular strategy or investment product. This presentation is for educational purposes and should not be considered investment advice.